Barbecues

32-inch or 46-inch options, with black or natural stainless-steel finishes. Model specifications determine the starting configuration.

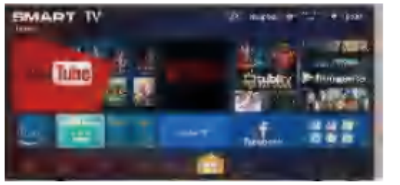

Refrigeration

Glass-door or stainless-steel-door options. Single- and double-door configurations depend on the available cabinet space.

Television

32-inch and larger-screen options are model-dependent. Ultra specifications list 42-inch; confirm the exact screen supplied.

Extraction & accessories

Range hood, optional waste bin and storage accessories are available subject to model compatibility and the final quotation.

From configuration to installation

A clear route from your first choices to the finished kitchen.

01 Choose your model

Select the B-Series or Signature Fold format, then discuss finishes, appliance choices and any layout requirements.

02 Confirm the quotation

Approve the specification, drawings, delivery scope and installation requirements. Typical quotation turnaround is 1–3 working days.

03 Manufacture to order

Typical production is 35–45 days for the Signature Fold range. Confirm the applicable lead time for your model and order.

04 Plan delivery

Shipping time depends on origin, destination and freight method. Agree site access, unloading and lifting arrangements before dispatch.

05 Position & connect

The assembled pod arrives crated. It is unloaded, lifted into position where required, uncrated and connected to the prepared services.

06 Commission & hand over

Complete the agreed checks and handover. The quotation defines responsibility for the base, lifting, connections and commissioning.

Plan your outdoor kitchen

The practical details to confirm before ordering.

Can I customise the kitchen?

Discuss your preferred finish, worktop, appliances and storage layout with the team. Availability and additional costs depend on the model and requested specification.

What is included?

The configuration pages describe the listed equipment and options. Your signed quotation confirms exactly what is supplied, including appliances, delivery and installation services.

What access is needed?

Allow for the packed dimensions and weight, delivery vehicle access and any lifting equipment. Check gates, routes and the final position before delivery.

How should the site be prepared?

Agree a suitable level base, service connections, ventilation and appliance clearances against the final drawings and installation instructions. Do not prepare the site from nominal dimensions alone.

Does fully assembled mean ready to use?

The pod arrives assembled, but lifting, positioning, gas, water and electrical connections may still be required. Arrange competent installers and commissioning as appropriate.

Will every finish suit every model?

The finish library shows the wider collection. B-Series worktops are specified as stainless steel; confirm any alternative finish or appliance upgrade before ordering.
